

Adsystemtech, Inc.

8401 Colesville Rd Suite 450
Silver Spring, MD 20910

[o] 888.602.2225
[w] www.adsystemtech.com

BEHAVIOR HEALTH

Understanding the parameters needed to determine eligibility and drawbacks manifested as a result of poverty, this module provides the customizable assessments and outcome management tools needed to contribute towards thriving self-sufficiency within a family all while preparing children and youth towards reaching their full potential.

KEY POINTS

Because we're always looking for additional ways to assist agencies in their mission towards holistic community wellness, Adsystemtech developed the Health and Social/Behavioral Development module as our client's answer to using CSBG funds towards supporting and implementing two-generation approaches to increased family economic security and well-being.

KEY NEW FEATURES

Giving agencies the ability to track and manage services as a collective allows for the efficient delivery and administration of educational services for children and workforce development services for their parents as a unified solution.

- +Outcome management tools and assessments ensure that families have access to the economic and social support needed for stability, resilience and healthy child development.
- +With the ability to track and manage attendance to programs through the Group Sessions page and the integrated capabilities of Case notes allows our clients to help customers build social capital that can support both resilience and upward mobility.